NEXTVIEW SUPPORTS THE 2009 WORLD MONEY SHOW AS MEDIA PARTNER

NextVIEW, the fastest growing pan Asian financial information data vendor, pens deal to become Investment Seminar's Inc's (Intershow) digital media partner for the inaugural 2009 World Money Show Hong Kong.

MoneyShow.com, LLC, an affiliate of Intershow, produces conferences, trade shows and provides online services for individual investors, financial advisors, and active traders.

The 2009 World Money Show will be held on 17 – 19 March 2009 at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Hong Kong and marks the first cooperation between NextVIEW and Intershow.

High-net-worth private investors and active traders will gain insight into the rapidly changing global investment markets and to explore profitable investment and trading opportunities at this exclusive 2-1/2 day in-depth educational event.

Topics covered (70%-80% global-focused and 20%-30% U.S.-focused content) on macroeconomics and specific investments and trading strategies will include global macroeconomic overview, global equities, futures, forex, and asset allocation. These topics will be presented in keynote addresses, panel discussions, and workshops. Simultaneous Mandarin translation of featured speakers, panel discussions, and selected sponsor workshops will be provided.

Legendary investment experts Steve Forbes, Jim Rogers, Marc Faber, Sam Stovall, Lorraine Tan, Victor Chu, Joe Battipaglia, Robert McTeer, John Bollinger and many others will be at the event to share their knowledge and advice on how to become more profitable in 2009.

NextVIEW will be providing a 7 day Free Trial for their AdvisorX platform. NextVIEW AdvisorX is used by trading desks of securities brokers, futures brokers, banks, listed companies, commodities brokers, and fund managers throughout Asia. It is a high-speed integrated information service providing you with affordable, fast and reliable real-time market quotes, news and decision support for sophisticated investor and technical traders with tools for selecting, analyzing, charting and comparing stock and commodities.
